

Are you looking to start playing your instrument again?

Then SGB is the band for you!

Southampton Grad Band has enjoyed two very successful years since it was formed in January 2007. Made up of graduates of the University of Southampton, the band comprises a number of professionals all with a shared love of music. Although there are many varied opportunities to play in musical ensembles at University, the bands' trustees felt that there were few options for those who wished to continue playing music for pleasure after graduating, hence SGB was formed! If you play a wind, brass or percussion instrument then come along. The band does not audition, and welcomes all players, from experienced musicians to those who haven't picked up their instrument in a while. In the two years since its inception, the band has played numerous successful concerts in Southampton and the surrounding area.
